AIR RAIDS KILL TWO HUNDRED

MEAKIN GETS 25 YEARS IN STATE PRISON

Judge Callaghan Said Meakin Had
No Mercy For His Victims and Could Expect None From the Court.

John B. Meakin, a former naval prisoner at the Portsmouth navy yard, whose crimes terrorized Boston and other places and including the shooting of a police officer, was sentenced from 20 to 25 years in state prison by Judge Callaghan in the Boston court on Wednesday. Before the sentence was imposed Assistant District Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle asked the court to give a life sentence.

Asked by the court what he had to say for himself before being sentenced, Meakin made a stuttering plea for leniency, which Judge Callaghan characterized as "a whine for mercy from one who never showed his victims mercy."

Joseph Saul, who pleaded guilty to the robbery of Colpitts' Ticket Agency when Meakin was with him, was given a reformatory sentence at Concord. Mr. Lavelle recommended probation for Saul, but was refused by the court. Details and shiftings of Meakin's tortuous career of crime were given by Assistant Tom Lynch told the complete history of the bandit's life.

Meakin blamed his career of crime on his father's beatings. "I was sent away from home before I was 12," he said. "My father did it to reform me, but reform schools don't reform. Reform school and my father's beatings made me bad. I've got marks I'll take to my grave from those beatings. I ran away and was sent away in Boston. I went into the navy, went home on a furlough and got arrested again. Then I tried to go right. I was working when they took me for being a navy deserter. I served 18 months for that and then when I came out I couldn't get work. I had to get money some way."

"You say you were in want for money, Meakin," asked Judge Callaghan. "Do you realize that your robberies totalled over $500 in two months?"

"Yes, sir, but I want a chance to show I'm not as bad as I'm painted. I never knew what it all meant until I was shot and when the good Lord gave me a chance then and I lived through it. I want another chance from you."

"The story of your crimes is one of the most remarkable I ever heard," said Judge Callaghan. "You come into court whining for the mercy you never showed your victims. You are fortunate, indeed, that you were caught, for there was only one end for you and your career, death in the electric chair. I'm going to give you a very heavy sentence. You are only 25 years old, but you have shown what a dangerous man you are. I shall not impose a life sentence, as I should not do that for a crime which did not call for a death penalty."

Allies Send Aerial Fleet Over Karlsruhe and Inflict Heavy Damage-- Another British Ship Torpedoed and Sunk

(Special to The Herald)

London, June 17.—Two hundred and twenty-one persons, non-combatants for the most part, have been killed and as many more seriously hurt during the past 48 hours as the result of air raids. In retaliation of the raids made over English and French territory the allies sent an air expedition over Karlsruhe, the capital of Baden, Germany, and two hundred persons were killed by the bombs dropped on the city. This raid took place Wednesday. Telegraph dispatches from Paris state that five were killed in Nancy by bombs dropped from a German aeroplane. The British admiralty admits that sixteen were killed in the Zeppelin raid over the northeast coast of England on Tuesday night. The loss of life, if any, caused by the German raid over Belfast and St. Die is not known here at present. This raid was made early Wednesday.

London, June 17.—The British steamer Trafalgar, bound from London to Sydney, Australia, was torpedoed and sunk today by a German submarine off the Scotch coast near the Small Isles. All the members of the crew were saved. The Trafalgar was a small steamer of 215 tons and hailed from Manchester.

ITALIANS MAKING
FURTHER GAINS
(Special to The Herald)
Rome, June 17.—All along the Tyrol and Trentino frontier the Austrians are bringing up reinforcements. It is officially announced by the Italian war office. The Italian forces in the Montenegro zone of operations to the northwest of Tolmein have taken 315 prisoners, including 14 officers. They have gained several new and important positions along the Isone river valley section.

FRENCH AND BRITISH ARE MAKING GAINS
(Special to The Herald)
Paris, June 17.—A tremendous offensive movement by the French is taking place in Alsace. Important victories have been gained in the valley of the Fecht, river and in the districts about the Voges mountains, is announced by the French war office today. The French are now masters of all the important heights commanding the Fecht valley west of Colmar, one of the important links in the Rhine defense of Germany. North of Ypres and west of Flanders the British have gained another line of German trenches, but were unable to hold the trenches captured yesterday west of La Bassée.

GERMAN SUBMARINES
AGAIN ACTIVE
(Special to The Herald)
London, June 17.—After a brief lull in the German submarine warfare about England, the under-water craft have resumed their activity and up to noon today reports were received of the destruction of two British steamers and a trawler. The first reported was the steamer Trafalgar, followed shortly after by the report of the torpedoing and sinking of the trawler Japonica, in the North Sea. The British steamer Turnwell, a vessel of 426 tons, bound from Liverpool to New York, was held up by a submarine and bombs were placed aboard her and exploded. The crew were able to keep the steamer afloat until she reached Milford Haven, Wales. The British steamer Monfort was chased by a submarine which was driven off by the appearance of the liner Desmarest, which came up in time.

SEINER TOWED INTO PORT

By the Power Boat of the Isles of Shoals Life Saving Station.

The auxiliary seiner, Nora H. Robinson, of Gloucester, Mass., carrying a crew of seven men, became disabled on Wednesday evening, when about midway between Fort Point light and the Isles of Shoals. The plight of the disabled craft was discovered by Capt. O. S. Cummings of the Isles of Shoals life saving station, who was returning in the station power boat from the mainland. A line was attached to the disabled craft and she was towed to Stewart's wharf in this city, where the necessary repairs will be made to her engine.

CANOE OVERTURNED

A young man who was out on the river on Tuesday afternoon near Green Acre, Elliot, overturned the frail craft and was in the water some time before assistance arrived from the Elliot shore and rescued him. The accident was witnessed by the summer residents at Rollins Farm on the Newington shore.

AGAIN POSTPONE THAW JURY TRIAL

New York, June 16.—Supreme Court Justice Kendrick today adjourned the jury trial of Harry K. Thaw, ordered to examine into his sanity, until Tuesday next pending the decision of the court of appeals which has been asked by the state to vacate Justice Hendrick's order for the trial. Thaw came to court in charge of Deputy Sheriffs and after the brief proceedings was returned directly to Ludlow street jail.

CUNARD LINE OFFICER PREVENTED RESCUE

Staff Captain Anderson Ordered
Crew to Quit Lowering Life
Boats on Lusitania.

London, June 17.—A sensation was caused today at the Government inquiry relative to the destruction of the Cunard liner Lusitania by a German submarine, when J. Baker, one of the survivors swore that one of the staff officers of the liner stopped the rescue work while the ship was sinking. Baker testified on the stand and said in part: "I heard Staff Captain Anderson shout from the bridge order search to stop lowering the life boats. Anderson shouted that there was no danger as the ship was not going to sink. There seemed to be a lack of competent seamen in the crew also."

Baker's testimony was corroborated by Miss Rositter, another rescued passenger. According to Baker's testimony on the stand Anderson not only ordered the crew to stop lowering life boats but he came down from the bridge and assisted women from boats they had already embarked in which to leave the steamer.

Captain Turner was recalled to the stand and testified that it was fully ten minutes after the ship had been attacked before he realized that there was any danger of her going down. Seaman O'Neill declared on the stand that one torpedo hit the Lusitania missed its mark and passed astern of the vessel.

DECIDE BECKER'S FATE BY FRIDAY

Albany, N. Y., June 16.—A reply to District Attorney Perkins' brief in the application for re-argument of the case of former Police Lieut. Charles Becker, under death sentence for conspiring for the slaying of Herman Rosenthal, was filed in the court of appeals today by Bourke Cockran. The court will adjourn for the summer Friday. It is expected that its decision in the case will be handed down before adjournment is taken.

GOV. SPAULDING GIVEN DOCTOR OF LAWS DEGREE

New Hampshire College Honors First Citizen of State at Durham.

Durham, N. H. June 16.—New Hampshire College today conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon His Excellency Rolland H. Spaulding, Governor of New Hampshire and the honorary degree of Doctor of Science on her distinguished son, Dr. H. W. Spaulding, trustee of the college and member of congress from this state. Charles Henry Good of the class of 1880, and Charles Appleton Hubbard of the class of 1877. The degree of Master of Science was conferred upon Charles Howard Batchelder of the class of 1913 and the degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred upon the members of a graduating class of 54, nine of whom were women.

The commencement ceremonies were in the college gymnasium, which was filled with friends, parents, and alumni who applauded vigorously the eloquent address of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York who paid tribute to President Wilson in urging his hearers to be "sponsors of idealism." The graduates in black cap and gown marched across the platform in front of the faculty and trustees where they received their diplomas from President E. T. Patchell, the decorations of whose academic robes added a touch of brilliant color.

Rabbi Wise in his address, declared that there is need of men who can "think through."

"What are you going to pay for what the state and country has done for you? I would ask you to do one thing. Help to socialize, democratize, the country. Don't forget for a moment that acquiring this degree you are about to receive, is but the first step forward. I want you to stand for the dominance of the spirit, for the art of self denial, to wage war on those who believe that things are and should be masters."

"Don't forget that though the last three Presidents of the United States have been graduates of our great universities they are unfortunately not typical. The bosses of New York also you must not forget, have always been able to get their wishes done by college men. Some of the most reasonable have come from our greatest schools."

Some colleges tainted by caste cannot do the work that the country expects of them. They have had their presidents chosen for safety and sanity, rather than because they were flaming with the spirit of service.

"The men who give benefactions would have you to be the social police. They would have you to be sponsors of the idealism of the nation, for unless you are, you are not truly educated. The great peril today in this country is the worship of things; the worship of power, success and wealth. Opposed to this is idealism, our idealism which is our glorified sanity."

"I urge upon you also the high seriousness which your forefathers gave the republic. You are in danger of losing it. We need a renaissance of the Puritan spirit. We are on the verge of a great war; yet I think we shall not go to war with Germany. Why? Because we are afraid? Because they are afraid? No, not for those reasons; but because of the high exalted self-restraint of the American people, made possible by justified confidence in a more college president."

BRYAN ISSUES NEW STATEMENT

Declares Neutral Nations Are Suffering Greatly From European War.

Washington, June 16.—Former Secretary Bryan in the first section of his statement on "the causeless war" today prophesied that the greatest peace making opportunity in all history was certain to come to the U. S. and declared that there would be a demand for an international conference with the return of peace to change the rules of international law which "seem to have been made for the nations at war rather than the nations at peace."

"Under the stress and strain of this Titanic struggle in which they are engaged," Mr. Bryan's statement says, "each side has felt itself justified in encroaching upon the rights of neutrals. The ocean highways the common property of all have been to some extent appropriated for war purposes and delicate diplomatic questions are forced upon the neutral nations."

"Just at this time when the questions are most acute, the belligerent governments are least able to deal with them with the calmness and poise which their great importance demands. No wonder every neutral nation is increasingly anxious for the war to end; but of all the neutral nations ours has the most reason to pray for the return of peace; most reason to set its face resolutely against participation in this war. This nation, the head of the neutral group and the sincere friend of all the belligerents is in duty bound to set an example in patience and self-restraint."

"In all history no such opportunity has ever come to any other nation as that which is destined to come to the United States. In all history no other peacemaker has ever been in a position to claim as rich a blessing as that which will be pronounced upon our President when the time for mediation comes—as come it must."

Describes Honors

Introducing his statement, Mr. Bryan graphically describes the horrors and afflictions of the war and says: "Neutral nations cannot look on with indifference, the ties that bind them together are too strong, the relationship too intimate. This is especially true of the United States. We have a composite population—every nation of Europe having contributed liberally to our citizenship. These our countrymen themselves born abroad or immediately descended from foreign born ancestors, cannot but take a lively interest in the conduct as well as in the results of the war, and a still larger circle shares the concern of those directly connected. Not a soldier falls on either side but the sorrow expressed in his home finds an echo in some fireside in the United States."

Aside with sentimental considerations Mr. Bryan asserts neutral nations suffer serious disturbances because of the war.

"Nearly every nation finds new domestic problems thrust upon it and old problems made more difficult," the statement declares. "No American citizen can note without deep concern the manner in which war questions have introduced themselves into our politics—overshadowing economic issues and stimulating agitation in favor of enlarged appropriations for military and naval purposes."

Interruption of Commerce

At some length Mr. Bryan refers to interruption to neutral commerce, derangement of business and consequent readjustments and speaks of the severity of American ships as one of the greatest embarrassments to the U. S.

"The neutral nations are put to a great expense to preserve neutrality and are constantly in danger of being embroiled in the war without intention or fault on their own part," he declared. "The rules of international law seem to have been made for the nations at war rather than for the nations at peace. It is almost impossible to alter these rules during the war because any material change affecting as it would the interests of the belligerents would be a seeming violation of neutrality."

"As soon as peace returns there will be a demand for an international conference on the subject. The presumption should then be given to peace, for peace, not war, is the normal condition. If nations are determined to fight

WITH THE SPORTS

New York, June 17.—The two big leagues—the American Association and the International League—are not going to quit business July 4th or at any other time, according to letters that have come to the writer from the presidents of both organizations.

Because so many reports emanating from different sources about the financial conditions of both leagues, the writer put the reports up to the presidents of those organizations and asked them for straight forward discussion of the reports.

Here is the letter that came from Tom Chivington, president of the American Association:

"The American Association made money last year. While some of the clubs lost, others made more than enough to offset the losers. Now, with expenses reduced to meet conditions, the Association is in better shape than it was a year ago. Contrary to the general opinion, we have had fewer postponed games this year than last year at this time because of the excellent weather the last half of April."

"The American Association is one of the strongest baseball leagues in the country and is well equipped to meet any difficulties that may arise. The club owners are business men with considerable resources behind them, but it is unlikely that they will be called upon to fall back upon their resources because every club in the Association will support its team even under conditions as unfavorable as those that confronts baseball at this time."

No matter what may happen the American Association will continue to furnish its patrons with the best base ball playing outside of the American and National Leagues. If it becomes necessary for the club owners to face losses they are prepared to do so, but there is no prospect that this will be done."

Here is a letter from G. Harrows, president of the International League:

"Naturally I wish to deny any and all stories that the International League is going to close on July 4th, or in fact on any other date before September 18th, the closing date of the season."

"Neither is there any truth in the stories now being printed that the Newark club will be transferred to Harrisburg. Just now we have no thought of transferring the club at all. I am not yet convinced that we are beaten in Newark. The weather conditions have been so bad since the season opened, that we really haven't had a chance to judge whether the club is going to draw or not."

"The territory is too valuable to give up without a struggle, and you may be sure that we are going to make a desperate effort to hold onto it. As to the other clubs in the league it is ridiculous to even hint at the possibility of their quitting, even though business should get worse instead of better. They are all backed by men of means who are not going to 'lay down' and forfeit property rights that represent investments of thousands of dollars."

"We did not figure on doing any great amount of business this year, and to offset this adopted strict player limit and salary limit rules; operating expenses were also reduced in many other ways. The expense of running a club in the International League now is from one-third to one-half less than last year."

"You can make a bet on our finishing the season. A readjustment of some sort is bound to come before next season, for just what it will be I am not prepared to say. I do know however, that no proposition can or will be considered by organized baseball, that does not fully restore and protect the territorial rights of the International League."

To my mind, baseball has for various reasons, been set back fully ten years, but that it will recover its lost prestige within a year or two I haven't the slightest doubt. "Much" good may result from the present sickness of the great national game. Both player and manager were running wild to a certain extent, and both no doubt are beginning to realize now that they were not the whole works."

STOP SALE OF SMALL LOBSTERS

Fishermen Organizing at the Maine Coast to Aid Industry.

Lobster fishermen along the York county coast are attempting to form an organization the object of which shall be to stop the sale of very small lobsters, known among the fraternity as 'bugs'. All lobsters under nine inches in length are called bugs by the fishermen and it is the sale of these very small lobsters which those conversant with the conditions assert is causing the decrease in the lobster industry along the Maine coast, hence the proposed organization.

Several meetings have already been held, two of which have been at Cape Porpoise, and it is said the programme is receiving the general support of the fishermen who recognize in it the salvation of their business.

The plan is to circulate agreements among the fishermen for their signatures. In the agreement the signers contract not to take any lobsters under nine inches in length. Should one be found violating this pledge, the other signers agree to report the matter to the fish wardens. All fishermen of lobsters refusing to sign the agreement will be treated as "outlaws" in the business by the rest of the fraternity who will thus constitute themselves a sort of detective force to see to it that their traffic in the little shell fish be not a bed of roses. The petitions are being generally signed it is said.

By this agreement the fishermen do not contract to live up to the laws of the state governing the taking of lobsters, since the law says that a lobster to be marketable must measure 3-4 inches along the hard part of the body, the measurement being from the tip end of the snout to the point where the tail joins the body. Such a lobster is approximately ten and one-half inches long from tip of snout to tip of tail, hence the agreement of the fishermen to take none under nine inches in length does not comply with the Maine law. It does however agree with the law in Massachusetts where nine inches is the legal limit for lobsters and where the Maine product can be sold with impunity, once it is gotten safely out of the state.

DOVER HIGH GOT ALL THE LUCKY BREAKS

Defeated Portsmouth High at Dover By 3 to 2 Score Wednesday

A single by Cash, a perfect sacrifice by Cavanaugh and a single by J. Cavanaugh through the box bounding off Umpire Hayes, spelled defeat for Portsmouth high in the tenth inning yesterday afternoon at Dover. The score was 3 to 2 and the game was hard fought throughout.

Shuttlesworth was in the box for the local boys and he twirled splendid ball. He allowed eight hits two of which were of a scratchy nature. His support, however, failed him at critical stages of the game. Nelson, who was in the box for Dover, tightened up in the pinches, though hit safely in every inning except the last two, his support was all right when a break meant runs.

Portsmouth though displaying their usual good form at the bat was woefully weak in the field, making eight errors some being costly ones. Shuttlesworth made two clever catches in center field.

Butler featured at the bat with three slashing singles. Cash, J. Cavanaugh, Chesley and Davis also starred with their stickwork.

The Dover outfit played snappy ball and contributed two fast doubles. The first retired Gibson at the plate in the second inning after Capt. Jack Timmons had lined to center field and M. Cavanaugh made a perfect throw home to Mitchell. In the fourth, Davis singled with one out but Gibson hit into a fast double play, Cash to Cavanaugh to J. Cavanaugh.

The Game
1st Inning.—Capt. Timmons opened by grounding out Cavanaugh to J. Cavanaugh. Mulholland went out by the same route. Harrington and Butler both hit safely between short and third. Portsmouth filled the bases when Cavanaugh fumbled Shuttlesworth's grounder. Thomas fanned for the third out. No runs.

Cash hit safely and went to second when Shuttlesworth threw wild to catch him off first. Cavanaugh out, Harrington to Gibson. Cash advancing to third. J. Cavanaugh hit to Shuttlesworth, who threw him out at first. Cash being held on third. Mitchell struck out. No runs.

2d Inning.—Davis went out, J. Cavanaugh unassisted. Gibson reached first on Desautels' error and went to third on Timmons' double to right field. Timmons went out on a fly to M. Cavanaugh who doubled up, Gibson trying to score. No runs. Desautels out, Harrington to Gibson.

Finnegan hit one that bounded off Shuttlesworth but P. Timmons recovered the ball in time to throw him out at first. M. Cavanaugh struck out. No runs.

3d Inning.—Mulholland hit safely to right field. He stole second and went to third on Mitchell's overthrow. Harrington fanned. Butler hit to J. Cavanaugh who threw Mulholland out at the plate on a close decision. Shuttlesworth drove a fly to M. Cavanaugh. No runs.

Chesley singled to left field and went to second on Shuttlesworth's wild heave to Gibson. Shuttlesworth hit to Mulholland. Gibson made a sensational one-hand running catch of a foul fly of Cash and Mulholland brought the spectators to their feet by a sensational catch of Cavanaugh's liner. No runs.

4th Inning.—Thomas fouled to J. Cavanaugh. Davis singled only to be doubled up on Gibson's grounder. Cash to Cavanaugh to J. Cavanaugh. No runs.

J. Cavanaugh walked and went to second on Thomas' wild throw to first base. Davis also threw wild to second and Cavanaugh reached third. He was retired at the plate on Mitchell's grounder to Harrington. Mitchell out at second on Desautels' grounder to P. Timmons. Harrington getting the put out. Desautels stole second, but was left when Finnegan popped to Harrington. No runs.

5th Inning.—P. Timmons out, Desautels to J. Cavanaugh. J. Timmons reached first on Cavanaugh's error and went to second when Mulholland received a base on balls. Timmons forced at third when Harrington hit to Desautels. Butler's single over third scored Mulholland and Harrington reached third. Butler stole second but Shuttlesworth went out, Cash to J. Cavanaugh. One run.

Dover went out in order, M. Cavanaugh and Chesley grounding to Shuttlesworth and being thrown out at first, while Nelson fanned. No runs.

6th Inning.—Thomas and Davis hit safely. Gibson and P. Timmons struck out and Capt. Timmons sent no foul fly to Desautels. No runs.
Cash out, Shuttlesworth to Gibson. Cavanaugh struck out, Thomas throwing him out at first. J. Cavanaugh hit safely. Mitchell scratched a hit through Butler and Desautels' liner to left center scored J. Cavanaugh. Thomas allowed the throw in to get by him and Mitchell made for third. With not a chance to get him, Thomas

WHITE SOX CAUSING GREAT COMMOTION BY THEIR WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENT; ALSO DRAWING MUCH ADVERSE CRITICISM.

SPORT OUT

Chicago, June 16.—Clarence Rowland is making good in big company, and one has but to question the players and managers of rival teams for verification of that statement. Various managers have charged all kinds of heinous crimes to the "minor league" manager of the White Sox, but the only charge they can prove against him is that he has his team surcharged with confidence and fighting. Rowland is a "Svengali," says one of his critics and produces as proofs the batting and fielding averages of several of his players, who until the advent of the minor leaguer, were considered in and outers. Now these players are playing like stars, and the critics blame Rowland's hypnotic powers for the improvement. If it could be proved that it is possible to improve a man's batting average or speed by merely making him subservient to another's will, every league manager would become a hypnotist and the game would see the greatest collection of "stars" ever gathered under the "big tent." Another charge made against Rowland and against the entire team is that of sign stealing. There seems to be no grounds for this charge. Any team that has on its roster Eddie Collins, Jacques Fournier and Ray Schalk and possesses a pitching corps such as the Sox possess, does not have to steal the other fellow's signals, and that goes double for hypnotism.

On my return from Fort Monroe today I found the flag in the care of Mr. Stewart, our second assistant postmaster general. We are so pleased to have it—the first time we have been able to get one, and thank you very much. I shall return it to Frank Bates just as soon as the decorations are taken down.

To me the size and beauty of the flag, together with the prominent position given it, makes it the most striking of all the state flags in the country. I wish you could see it for yourself. A little later I shall write you as to best means of procuring a permanent one.

Thanking you in the name of the department as well as myself,

P. A. C. IN TRIPLE TIE FOR LEAD IN SUNSET LEAGUE

Defeated Consolidation Coal Company Six to Nothing Last Evening

By defeating the Consolidation Coal Company in their game last evening the P. A. C. have jumped up with the leaders and there are now three teams tied for first honors. The score was six to nothing but it was far from a walk over and the C. C. Co. were dangerous on more than one occasion. Errors on the part of the infielders were responsible in a great measure for the runs as the P. A. C. were able only to get four hits off Driscoll. On the other hand, the P. A. C. played air-tight ball all the time and with the exception of one error made by W. Brackett in the third they played perfect ball. Even that error was not important as it allowed a man to reach first and he was forced out at second on a batted ball.

W. Brackett was hit by a ball thrown to first as he was on the coaching line. He had one lens broken from his glasses and received a slight cut. He continued to play until the fourth inning when he was replaced by Davidson when the darkness threatened Brackett's eyesight. Grant, the Consolidation catcher, had to leave the game in the fourth when he had one of the fingers of his right hand split. Hanson on first took Grant's place behind the bat and Birtwistle covered first. The only extra base hit was made by Billy Woods in the fifth. He flied on one, driving it out to left field for three bases. Lynskey pulled off a peach of a catch in the first, robbing Cragen of a homer.

The Game
1st Inning.—W. Brackett hit to the out field and was out when Howard caught his fly. W. Brackett flied out to Esterbrook. Howard was thrown out at first, Esterbrook to Hanson. No runs.
Letch waited for four bad ones, and was out stealing second, R. Brackett to Harrington. Hanson singled over second and stole. Davis flied out to Trueman. Cragen hit one labeled "four bases," but Lynskey made a fine running catch and spoiled it. No runs.

2d Inning.—Lynskey drew a pass. Lynskey laid down a beautiful bunt along the third base line and was called out at first, Cragen to Hanson. Leary advancing to second on the play. C. Brackett hit to Driscoll, who allowed the ball to bounce off him and Brackett was safe. Leary taking third on the play. Woods hit to Esterbrook and was safe but Brackett was forced out at second. Trueman hit to Cragen who threw wild to first and Leary and Woods scored. Trueman taking second on the throw to the plate. Harrington was walked, R. Brackett flied out to Cragen. Two runs.

Kelly singled through the infield but was out stealing second, R. Brackett to Harrington. Howard was thrown out at first, W. Brackett to Howard. Esterbrook fanned. No runs.

3d Inning.—W. Brackett flied out to Cragen. Howard was hit and stole second, he took third when Letch muffed the throw from Grant. Leary was fanned. Lynskey singled with a hard drive through the infield to center, scoring Howard. He stole second. C. Brackett was safe at first on Cragen's error, Lynskey taking third. Woods hit to Cragen who threw wild; Lynskey and C. Brackett scoring. And Woods taking second on the throw in. (Trueman was out at first, Letch to Hanson. Three runs.

Grant was safe at first on C. Brackett's error. Driscoll flied out to Woods in right. Letch struck out. Hanson hit to Leary and forced Grant at second, Leary to Harrington, to W. Brackett. No runs.

4th Inning.—Harrington singled over the short stop. (Hanson replaced Grant at catcher and Birtwistle covered first). R. Brackett was out at first, Driscoll to Birtwistle, Harrington going to second on the play. W. Brackett singled to right, scoring Harrington, and taking second on the throw to the plate. Howard flied out to Howard in center. Leary struck out. One run.

Davis singled to left, Cragen hit into a double play, Davis out at second, Harrington to W. Brackett and Cragen out at first, Brackett to Howard. Kelly was out at first, Leary to Howard. No runs.

5th Inning.—Lynskey was tagged out by Hanson on a bunt. C. Brackett flied out to Esterbrook. Woods hit for three bases to left. Trueman was out at first, Cragen to Esterbrook. No runs.

Howard flied out to Davidson who had replaced Brackett at short. Esterbrook was walked and stole second. Birtwistle was hit by a pitched ball. Esterbrook started third when R. Brackett threw to first to get Birtwistle, and was out at third, Howard to C. Brackett. Driscoll hit to Leary and was out at first, Leary to Howard. No runs.

Ask Any Sickie Smoker Why

he sticks to Sickie plug and slices off each pipeful as he needs it.

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickie that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

STATE FLAG LOOKED WELL AT WASHINGTON

Cambridge, June 16.—That the New Hampshire state flag which was included in the display on the postoffice department building at Washington on Flag Day, was the most striking of the state flags shown, is declared by Mrs. Mary Kelly McCarty, formerly of Portsmouth, in a letter to Deputy Secretary of State Hobart Pillsbury. Mrs. McCarthy says that steps are to be taken to have the New Hampshire flag permanently at the post office department. She wrote to Deputy Secretary Pillsbury as follows:

The Rochester, Washington, D. C., June 13, 1915.
Dear Mr. Pillsbury:

On my return from Fort Monroe today I found the flag in the care of Mr. Stewart, our second assistant postmaster general. Too Much Law.

This paper has had something to say in the past about what it deems to be an excess of legislation, and it is not alone in recognizing an evil that is steadily increasing in this country, and one that must be checked if there is to be that respect for law which makes law effective.

The New York World recently devoted an article to this subject in which it called attention to facts that are well worth pondering. It began by presenting figures brought to light by ex-Senator Elihu Root, who is now presiding over the New York state constitutional convention, who finds that in the five years prior to 1911 there were passed by Congress and the legislatures of the different states 62,000 new laws, and during the same period 45,000 decisions were made by courts of last resort.

Such figures are almost beyond the comprehension of the ordinary man. They show that the legislative mills are grinding at a rate that loads down the statute books as trucks are loaded with freight, and that the result is a mass of law of which most people know little and care less. In every city and state laws are trampled upon in ignorance and indifference until there finally comes a prosecution, more often the result of spite than respect for law, and the public wakes up to the fact that there is a law of which it knew practically nothing.

This is not a good condition, and it is directly due to a surplus of legislation. People in most of the states have given up trying to keep track of the work of their legislatures, and the law making mills grind out their huge grists at large expense to the tax payers, and in many cases to the detriment rather than the benefit of the community. All of which leads the world to the conclusion that "we are getting away from that inherited order wherein law is the slow out-growth of popular customs and reverting to the Roman conception of law as something to be imposed on the people by an agency overhead."

Owing to new developments and conditions new legislation is frequently rendered necessary, but there is no disputing the fact that legislation at this time is seriously overdone. Less law, with greater respect for it and better enforcement of it, would be far better than the great accumulation of statutes that results from the mad passion for legislation.

Handling negro prisoners is dangerous business in the South. A South Carolina sheriff was shot to death the other day while defending from a mob a negro charged with assaulting a woman. The prisoner was also killed and a number of persons were wounded. There is room for more enlightenment and civilization in some parts of this country.

We do not have such cabinet shake-ups here as they have in foreign countries; nevertheless there is a ripple of excitement occasionally, such as was caused the other day by William Jennings Bryan, for instance. But, fortunately, such a happening does not halt or interfere with the work of government. The Ship of State sails on.

There appears to be a disposition to cultivate trade with Africa also. A schooner sailed from Boston for that country a few days ago and a part of its cargo consisted of 666 puncheons, 300 barrels and 2,000 kegs of New England rum. This indicates that trade follows not only the flag, but the missionaries as well.

To the general public it hardly seems necessary that there should be a "re-argument" of the case of Police Lieutenant Becker of New York, who has been twice convicted of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal. The people of this country are becoming very tired of "warmed over" murder cases.

Chicago is a well advertised city. The eyes of the country are now on its great street railway strike, and in a few days the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World will meet there for their annual convention. And when everything else fails there are the university professors to fall back on.

The restriction of spirits in England is said to be greatly stimulating the tea market. But if tea is a substitute for spirits how long will it be before the "unco guid" rise up and demand the prohibition of its sale? But perhaps Sir Thomas Lipton would have something to say about that.

The strike of the Chicago street railway employees was very quiet and orderly at the start, but it is to be noticed that the "sympathizers" with the strikers are getting busy. Now look out for broken glass and broken heads.

For years Missourians have wanted to be shown, and now Sneaker Champ Clark proposes to show them. He has invited the whole state to his daughter's wedding.

Colonel Edward M. House, confident and reputed envoy of President Wilson, since his return from Europe, where he saw the leading men of all the warring nations, has declared that, while peace is not in sight, there is no telling what may occur. He said that he found that the people of the warring countries are truly the governing element, and their sovereigns and leaders would risk destruction of themselves and their governments if they were not guided by what they knew was the overwhelming sentiment of their nations. The accompanying photograph of Colonel House was taken at the home of his son-in-law in Roslyn, N. Y., and is the first time Colonel House consented to pose for the camera in fifteen years.

GETS JACKIES READY FOR TRIP AGAINST YAQUIS

Admiral Howard Has 300 Sailors and 300 Marines Prepared to Land and March on Indians, Who Have Declared War on the United States, on Mexico, and on Germany.

(Special to The Herald)

San Diego, Cal., June 17.—With 300 marines and field artillery and machine guns the cruiser Colorado sailed early today for the west coast of Mexico. It is expected that the Colorado will land her forces at Guaymas or near there.

Washington, June 16.—A vigorous policy has been adopted by the Wilson administration for the protection of the American colonists threatened by the Yaqui Indians in the Yaqui river valley near Esplanza, in the southern part of the Mexican state of Sonora. The Villista authorities have been warned that if they do not protect these colonists, numbering about 75 including men, women, and children, the United States government will land a marine expedition at Tabari bay, south of Guaymas, which will march into the Yaqui country and rescue and protect the colonists.

Instructions Sent to Admiral

Instructions have been sent to Admiral Thomas B. Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet at San Diego, Cal., to proceed at once from that point on the armored cruiser Colorado, with an expeditionary force of 300 bluejackets and 300 marines for use, in dire necessity in rescuing the threatened colonists from the Yaquis. Admiral Howard will sail on the Colorado with his expeditionary force tomorrow, and is expected to arrive at Tabari Bay Saturday or Sunday. There he will join the cruisers Raleigh and New Orleans whose men will co-operate if a landing is necessary. Three companies of marines, the 25th, 26th and 28th, constituting three-fourths of the second battalion of the 14th marine regiment have been embarked on the Colorado in fighting trim, with their batteries and expeditionary paraphernalia. These marines have been stationed at the San Diego Exposition where only one company will be left on duty.

To Land if Necessary

Admiral Howard has not been ordered to land the force unless it is absolutely necessary. His instructions are to have the marines prepared for landing at Tabari Bay. If the American colonists are threatened or need protection the marines will be sent into the Yaqui river valley. The state department has sent telegraphic instructions to the American consul at Guaymas directing him to inform Gen. Mayorena, Villista governor of Sonora fully, as to the steps being taken by the United States government for the protection of American colonists, to urge the Mayorena to send more Villa troops into the Yaqui district and to insist upon full protection being accorded the American colonists and if the protection is not given and the Americans are endangered, the marine expeditionary force will be landed. These instructions have been repeated for delivery to General Villa and it is hoped they will be obeyed.

CURRENT OPINION

Trade Balance of This Nation For Year Will Be a Billion Dollars

Our exports for the nine months of the fiscal year ended with March 31 have reached the unparalelled total of $1,983,476,580, indicating an approximate total for the full fiscal year of $2,750,000,000. The apparent balance in our favor on merchandise transactions in this foreign trade up to the 17th of April (the data for half of April being estimated) is $761,000,000.

Unless some unforeseen change in the export movement occurs this favorable balance will reach, if not exceed, a thousand millions during the current fiscal year.

This is of itself sufficient to make American hearts glad, but certain factors add greatly to its weight. It includes the month of August, in which the substantial stoppage of our exports for a fortnight resulted in an unfavorable balance of $19,000,000. It is coincident with the absence of an expenditure on the part of American travelers abroad, estimated at net about $170,000,000 per annum, and also with the absorption by us of huge but undetermined amounts of American securities owned abroad, by reason of which the interest on the securities thus purchased is now paid to us instead of to others.

Not only, therefore, is the favorable balance remarkable in itself, but it is not subject to the offsets that have hitherto been usual.—By William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce.

LETTER CARRIERS MUST WAIT

Increase Due But No Money to Pay Them.

by the Wilson administration that when Villa understands that the U. S. is determined to act, if Villa protection is not given, Villa will order Mayorena to take the steps necessary to protect the colonists.

Asst. Secretary Roosevelt said the admirals had wide discretionary powers to land an expedition if necessary to rescue Americans who want to come out of the region of Indian depredations.

The Yaqui Indians, according to 22-day's state department advices, have declared war on Germany, Mexico and the United States. Their declaration of war on Germany the advices said, was because a German colonist, a crack rifle shot, defended his home in the last Yaqui raid with remarkable success and much disaster to the raiders. The Yaquis have threatened to annihilate foreigners and on June 9 they swept through the valley, destroying crops and property.

State department advices within the last few days are in effect that the situation is extremely threatening for Americans.

Letter carriers entitled by mandatory law to raises in salaries will not receive their increases due at the beginning of the fiscal year by reason of the failure of the Sixty-third Congress to pass the postoffice appropriation bill.

The Washington postal authorities have notified postmasters to make no further recommendations for increase in salaries on account of a lack of funds, and the men, who have been looking forward to increases will have to plan to get along on their present incomes and trust to further Congressional action for settlement of Uncle Sam's obligations to them.

Under an act of Congress approved March 2, 1907, the salaries of letter carriers were standardized. The act provided that carriers' salaries shall be increased from $800 to $900 after the first year, from $900 to $1,000 after the second year, and from $1,000 to $1,100 after the third year. Increases from $1,100 to $1,200 after the fourth year depend upon recommendations by the postmasters as to the efficiency of the men and the appropriations made by Congress to cover the increases. Some years 50 per cent and other years 75 per cent of the men on the list entitled to increases have been provided for by the appropriations.

When the postoffice appropriation bill failed of passage at the last session Congress adopted a resolution introduced by Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, continuing the 1914-1915 appropriations.

The summer schedule on the Boston and Maine railroad goes into effect next Monday.

One week from today occurs the graduation exercises of the Portsmouth High school, with the class reception in the evening.

Officer Murphy was called to Spruce street early this Thursday morning, where he arrested a "hobo" who was causing the residents of that section some pincussions.

The members of Danah's Lodge, No. 10, Knights of Pythias are to observe their 40th anniversary Sunday by attending services at the Universalist church on Sunday, June 27.

Steps are being taken to usher in Fourth of July in a fitting manner. Some of our enterprising citizens are interesting themselves and the plans are carried out Portsmouth will have one of the old time celebrations.

The Jay State Automobile Club is enjoying a two days' outing at the Farragut House, Rye Beach. Several of the touring cars were seen in this city this morning, one large car bearing Gloucester banners, being particularly noticeable.

WANT BOAT RACES.

Between Navy Crews on July 5 For Prizes.

The Portsmouth Yacht Club are going to attempt to bring back the old time sport of river boat racing in which the people of this city enjoyed for many years on July 4 and other holiday occasions. It is understood that a committee from the club will wait upon Mayor Yatch and some of the citizens and make an appeal for some prizes to be offered on the occasion and if successful arrange for a big rowing race by the crews of the several ships at the navy yard, and possibly a civilian crew may enter.

The yacht club is willing to do all work in making all the arrangements and looking after every detail. The navy men are understood to be anxious to get out and work the oars in a contest. Why not give this a push and make the river a lively scene on that day?

NEWBURYPORT CHAUFFEUR PLEADS IN HALE DEATH

Newburyport, June 16.—John R. Newhall, a chauffeur, pleaded not guilty to when arraigned in the police court on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Joshua Hale of this city and Boston, who was run down here yesterday. The case was continued to June 25. Newhall was a chauffeur for P. S. Mosely, Boston broker.

MAINE MAN HEADS MOOSE FIELD DAY ASSOCIATION

Portland, Me., June 16.—Dr. Frank M. Jordan of South Portland was elected president of the New England Field Day Association of the Loyal Order of Moose today at the annual convention and outing here. Newport, R. I. was selected practically unanimously as the place for next year's meeting.

The exodus of summer visitors to York Harbor has been exceedingly heavy this week and on Wednesday afternoon forty-four pieces of heavy baggage was landed at the local station for the three o'clock train to that resort.

Better Cake and Biscuits

In all receipts calling for one teaspoonful of soda and two of cream of tartar, use instead two spoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder. You will get better and finer food and save much trouble and guesswork.

Look out for adulterated baking powders. Do not permit them to come into your house under any consideration. They may add an injurious substance to your food, destroying in part its digestibility. Doctors will tell you this and it is unquestionable.

Housewives are sometimes led to use inferior baking powders because of apparent lower cost, but there is very little difference in practical use, about one cent for a whole cake or pan of biscuits—a mere trifle when you consider the vast difference in healthfulness in favor of food made with Royal Baking Powder.

said that he voiced the sentiments of the district attorney and the community in asking a life sentence for this man. It was not for Meakin's punishment, he said, but for the community's safety. Lavelle called attention to the fact that although Meakin had told the police in his confession that he shot Officer Corcoran and at Pranger accidentally, he had committed three bold robberies after making his escape.

"The city was terrorized," said Lavelle, "it was as if a plague had swept over it. Each man wondered when his turn would come at the hands of this bandit. The district attorney's office has a record for clemency in its recommendations, but this time it believes this man should be separated from his fellows."

CRASHED INTO IRON FENCE

Maine Automobile Skids on Congress Street With Disastrous Results.

A large Cadillac touring car bearing the Maine number 19703, containing a young man and woman, skidded on Congress street about 1:30 o'clock this Thursday afternoon and crashed into the iron fence in front of the old Haven house, adjacent to the Y. M. C. A. building. One of the forward wheels was demolished and the mud guard badly twisted. The occupants of the car escaped with a severe shaking up. The fence was considerably damaged and a stone post broken off by the force of the collision. The parties in the car hailed from Portland and were seeing the city at the time the accident happened.

EXPOSITION GIRLS DIRECT FROM BOSTON

Big Act With Ten People Playing at Portsmouth Theatre.

The Portsmouth Theatre is "here" again, with headline vaudeville for the remainder of the week. The big act known as the "Exposition Girls" comes here direct from Gordon's Olympia, Boston. There are ten clever artists in this turn and they are playing a musical sketch, "A Day at the Fair," which is another one of the big acts that the management of the popular playhouse is securing for its patrons.

The other vaudeville acts consist of one double and two singles. "Betty" is a dancing and singing turn is a good little number, and Gertrude De Mure is a clever singing comedienne. The comedy skit, "An Untrained Nurse," played by Carey and Drake is full of amusing situations and fast action.

THE TWO DAVES

You Can Keep Your Floors Bright and Beautiful

The secret of having beautiful floors, bright and glossy, free from the usual heel-marks, scratches, etc., is to have them finished with the varnish that is particularly adapted to floor use. Finish your floors with

Lowe Brothers
Durable Floor
Varnish

This varnish is specially made to withstand the hardest wear and trying conditions. It is very tough, does not scratch or mar, and retains its gloss exceedingly well. It is the "Varnish of Efficiency." Floors finished with Durable Floor Varnish can be washed with soap and hot water and kept aseptically clean. The varnish retains its beauty and does not turn white when water touches it. It is light enough in color to use over the lightest woods without discoloring them. Its body is just right to insure ease of working and perfect flowing, and at the same time show a full, rich lustre. It is the varnish that will give best results on your floors.

There is a Lowe Brothers Paint, Varnish, Enamel or Stain for every purpose.

INQUIRY ORDERED IN GERHARD RUMOR

"Fake" Peace Envoy Charges Rouses
State Department.-- Investigation
Will be Made.

Washington, June 16.—Published charges that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, for whom the United States arranged a safe conduct with the Allies that he might remain in Germany with a personal message from Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was in reality Dr. Alfred Meyer, chief of the supply department of the German army, who had been secretly in the United States buying munitions for war, are to be investigated by the State Department. Simultaneously, another version of the story—that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, a representative of the German Red Cross, who was returning to Berlin to carry a personal message from the Count after the latter's audience with President Wilson in the midst of the diplomatic negotiations with Germany, Mr. Jassorand, the French ambassador, at the time inquired closely of Meyer-Gerhard's identity, and State Department officials recalled also that Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, had suggested that there was evidence of other activity by Gerhard than that of a Red Cross worker.

The upshot of it was, however, that the State Department, at the request of Count von Bernstorff, gave a letter. "It was a letter," said Secretary Lansing today, "that was given at the request of the German ambassador, stating that Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, who had been in this country as the representative of the German Red Cross, desired to return to Germany." No question, up to that time, nor until today, had arisen at the department as to whether Meyer-Gerhard might really be Meyer, or if Meyer was in the country secretly buying war supplies.

At the British and French embassies it was said the development was considered one purely for the State Department to determine if it had been imposed upon. Most of the German embassy attaches were at the summer embassy at Cedarhurst, L. I.

One report which referred to Dr. Alfred Meyer as purchasing arms here, spoke of an attempt to buy obsolete United States army rifles and said former Representative Herman Metz had conferred with former Secretary Bryan on the subject. Mr. Bryan said today he had no recollection of any such conversation with Mr. Metz. Secretary Garrison said he knew of no negotiations for rifles and reiterated that early in the war, with the approval of the President, he had announced the United States would avoid all embarrassments by declining to sell the arms to any one.

The Department will look into the question, not because it involves any violation of international law, so far as officials could see today, but because if the charge of double identity were substantiated it would involve diplomatic usage and courtesy.

American Red Cross officials are inclined not to question the identity of Dr. Meyer-Gerhard. They said he came bearing apparently proper letters of introduction and with the endorsement of the German embassy. He took away with him a certification to his signature on a letter of identification as a delegate of the German Red Cross, entitled to protection under the Geneva convention. The certificate, however, was to his signature and not his identity. Officials say he discussed Red Cross affairs fluently.

Some inquiry probably may be directed to the minister from Denmark, Constantin Bruun, who is said to have arranged for the passage of Meyer-Gerhard on the steamer United States.

DAILY CABLE LETTER

London, June 16.—Frederic William will compare British and American methods of getting information out of the government in the following description of "Question Time at the White House," which is published here in the Daily Mail:

"When that persistent old party known as the British public requires information about the parish pump or minor topics like the seven wars it is now carrying on in various parts of the hemisphere an M. P. gets up in Parliament and asks a question."

When the American people desire to know what the United States is going to do about the Lusitania massacre, 50 or 60 human machine guns, with a muzzle velocity of five questions a minute, opened fire on the President, and after forty minutes or an hour President Wilson told the country what he thought it good for it to know.

I was recently eye-witness of such an engagement at the White House—the weekly audience which the chief magistrate accords to the brilliant corps of Washington newspaper correspondents.

Though it serve the precise purpose of question time at Westminster, the Presidential probe at the White House

How Gold Dust actually works for you

The active principle of Gold Dust is a valuable antiseptic cleansing agent.

It actually works. It gets into the corners and crevices where fingers and washcloths can't reach. It permeates and dissolves dirt, grease and grime everywhere and it cleans and brightens everything.

Gold Dust does all this—does this actual work—because it is made for that purpose.

Millions of women all over the country use Gold Dust three times a day in washing dishes. They use it also for scrubbing floors, washing windows, etc.

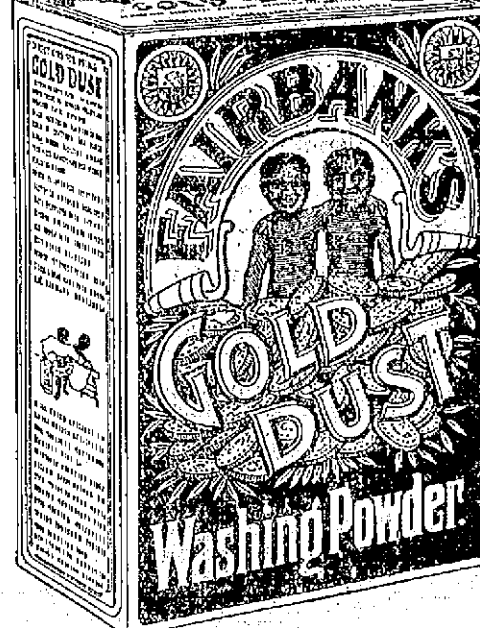

But they do not realize all the uses of Gold Dust. Gold Dust is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

Gold Dust cleans metal work, nickel, enameled ware, etc., without scratching or marring the surface—leaving it sanitariously clean, bright and new-looking.

The use of Gold Dust is an economy. There can be no waste when you use the exact small quantity required for each specific purpose. It is at once taken up by hot or cold water, forming the perfect cleansing solution.

No soap or other cleansing help is needed. Gold Dust does it all, and Gold Dust does its work far better than anything else can.

Use Gold Dust not only for washing dishes, but for washing bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, cleaning oil mops, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, giving luster to glassware—for every cleaning and brightening purpose.

Gold Dust is as inexpensive as it is indispensable.

Rules Imposed by Daniels

is devoid of all the red tape formalities of England's effete system of exhorting the facts from the government. No notice, written or otherwise is given of questions at Washington. When the correspondents have taken up their position in a semi-circle spreading around the President's reception room, question asking begins. The President is surrounded by his vigilant secretarial staff. At his left stands Joe Tumulty, his chief secretary, the mightiest Irishman in the world next to Mr. John Redmond. On either side sits a shorthand expert, one to note the exact tenor of the questions, the other to register the President's replies.

There is never any mistake as far as the White House records are concerned, about what happens at these weekly cross examinations. For if an over-zealous correspondent ever leaves with a distorted version of the proceedings, the President wants to be prepared to overhaul him with a document which will not only nip inaccuracies in the bud but will probably prove of grave professional consequence for the offender. Lapses of this kind seldom if ever occur.

The Washington correspondents are the honor men of American journalism. The key note of their self-framed code is that any man who breaks faith in quoting the President directly, or misquoting him indirectly are the cardinal sins, and the offender breaks his professional neck at the same time.

Mr. Franklin K. Lane the American home secretary, whom many Americans look upon as the biggest man in the present administration told me that if he had a state secret which he wanted to keep secret he would send for the Washington correspondents and let them into it.

Washington hardly less than London talks and thinks in terms of war these days, so I was not surprised on the morning that I was invited to witness the Presidential-journalistic "heart to heart talk," my American colleagues arrived with a stock of questions dealing almost wholly with the war. As the President stood there in the sunlight which streamed golden through the spacious bay window of his simple reception room, hands clasped behind him, he seemed half martyr, resignedly awaiting doom, half schoolmaster, beaming benignly on what he knew to be a very irrepressible class. Dr. Wilson was once a University professor.

But questions had only begun to fly at the President's head when I observed that the man is as calm under fire as a British regular, and like him, can give as hard and as fast as he takes.

It was evident that resourceful and daring as Washington correspondents are, they have their match in swiftness in the able Scotch Presbyterian at whom, as I was about to see, they launched their most penetrating queries in vain.

Bernstorff that morning had issued in connection with the war zone provisions round these isles, a characteristic dose of the pre-digested baby food which Germany tries to stuff down American throats.

"Isn't the German ambassador's statement rather reassuring, Mr. President?" chimed the correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star.

"Well, I suppose it is intended to be, flashed back the President.

I whispered to my neighbor that this did not strike me as the question of comminatory, because, as I once heard an Irishman say, I left you just where you were before, only more so. But this was the President's way of indicating that discussion of that particular incident might be considered closed.

"Is it true Mr. President," snapped out the Philadelphia Inquirer man, "that the President of Mexico has ordered the diplomatic corps to go to Vera Cruz?"

"I am sorry gentlemen," was the suave reply, but I don't know who is President of Mexico this week."

And so it went on for another half hour with never a semblance of fatigue or impatience on either side. I must not convey the impression that the correspondents always leave the field vanquished. They never do that. Wednesday's papers all over the country always tell you what "the President" said to visitors yesterday—the form adopted for making public the results of this wonderful, ingeniously democratic and practical system of taking a nation into a government's confidence.

WAS DRIVING AUTO WITHOUT A LICENSE

HAMPTON MAN PAID $18.53 FINE AND COSTS LAST EVENING

John Marston of Hampton paid $18.53 in fine and costs for operating an auto without a license yesterday afternoon. The case was tried in Hampton before Judge Joplin.

Marston has been driving an auto all this season with 1914 Massachusetts license tags on it. He had been evading the law intentionally as he had hammered the 4 from the date. As the color of the plates in Massachusetts this year are the same as they were last the wrong date was unnoticed for some time.

Inspector Charles R. Quinn was put on the case by Commissioner Wilks when complaints were made to him. Inspector Quinn went to Hampton and after an investigation returned to this city and placed his evidence before County Solicitor Hatch who made out the necessary warrant for the arrest of Marston. Mr. Quinn accompanied by Sheriff Spilney and Mr. Hatch returned to Hampton and Marston was placed under arrest by the sheriff. He was taken to the court and arraigned on the evidence presented by Mr. Quinn. He pleaded guilty and Judge Joplin ordered him to pay a fine and costs of $18.53.

It is the intention of the state to enforce the auto regulations from this time on and all cases where the laws and regulations are being violated will be prosecuted. Marston was arrested at 6:00 o'clock and the case was disposed of in a very few minutes. Other violators of the laws along these and similar lines will be dealt with in the same manner in the future.

NO REWARD FOR PASSENGER PIGEONS

Washington, D. C., June 16.—Recent widespread newspaper accounts to the effect that the United States Department of Agriculture is offering $10,000 reward to the person finding a passenger or "wood" pigeon nest containing two eggs, resulted in hundreds of letters being sent to the Department. The report is not based upon facts as the Department has offered no such reward, and there is every reason to believe the passenger pigeon which formerly roamed the country in flocks of millions is extinct. In 1910 about $1,000

In rewards were offered by Clark University for the first undisturbed nests of the passenger pigeon to be found in the United States. This was a great stimulus to action. The hunt for this pigeon was fruitless. The offer of rewards was renewed for several years until it was fully established that the pigeon was extinct.

The passenger pigeon up to 1885 ranged the American continent east of the Rocky Mountains. The mourning dove has often been mistaken for the passenger pigeon, which in a general way it resembles. However, this bird is quite extinct from the passenger pigeon; it is shorter and has different color markings.

The press reports stated that the now extinct passenger pigeon was valued because of its usefulness in destroying the gypsy moth and other insects and pests which are doing millions of dollars of damage. Although the preservation of this pigeon is much to be desired, it would be of absolutely no value in eliminating the gypsy moth as the pigeons are almost entirely vegetarian in their diet.

N. H. COLLEGE NOTES

Durham, N. H., June 15.—In spite of a drizzling rain and temperature cold enough to demand overcoats, the annual class day program was carried out here today with hundreds of parents, friends and alumni in attendance.

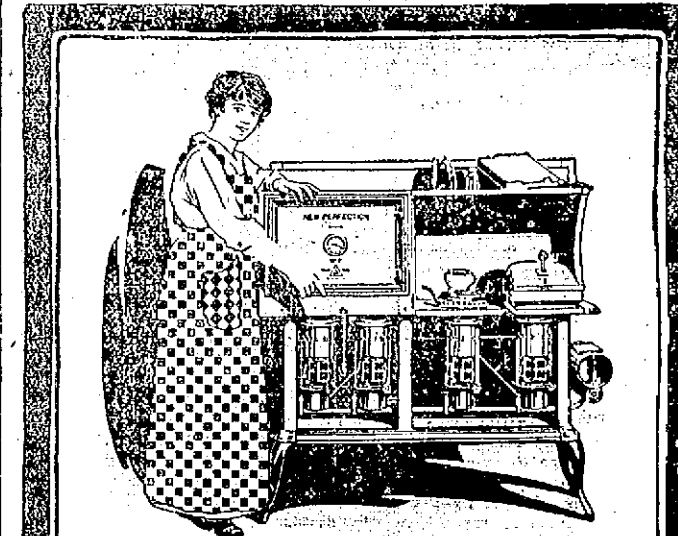

A senior class—faculty baseball game in the forenoon was rather hopelessly rain soaked but the indoor exercises in the afternoon were a complete success. Addressed by W. S. Bartlett of Manchester, the class marshal, the long line of caps and gowns filed into the gymnasium and took seats on the platform. R. E. Cane of Rochester, class president, presided and made the address of welcome to the visitors. He was followed by Clinton Reed of Manchester, who made the address to the faculty and undergraduates; by Arnold E. Bartlett of Manchester, who read the class history; and finally by E. R. Montgomery of Contoosook, who read the class will.

President E. T. Fairchild then spoke to the class, and in his words of farewell advice urged them never to cultivate a spirit of intolerance. Commenting on the spirit of loyalty displayed to the class addresses which had just been made, he told his hearers that the college had need of their loyalty, and should always have need of it. He declared that after a long period of slow growth the school was now being superseded by the fruition period and that a few years would show important changes here.

The planting of the class ivy was done on the south side of Thompson Hall after the completion of the program in the gymnasium, and after Miss Helen Plumer of Dover had delivered the Ivy Oration, the crowd joined the class in singing enthusiastically "Amen Mater." The rest of the afternoon was devoted to the Freshman-Sophomore baseball game, and this evening in the gymnasium the college Glee Clubs gave the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera, "Holanthe." Miss Irene Euse of Laconia took the title role and was supported by a chorus. The other principals were Mary Worcester of Berwick, Maine; R. J. Hughes of Claremont, N. H.; Knight of West Concord, Julia Roberts of Durham, and E. L. Blake of Durham.

Announcement was made today of the winners in the prize drills of yesterday. Dana P. Crockett of New London won the prize saber in the commissioned officers, just by a margin of a fraction of a point over W. I. Walte of Concord. U. S. Pettee of Burham was third. In the individual prize drill, Roy C. Graham of Candia won the gold medal, Ralph Dame of Newport the silver medal and W. H. Thomas of Franconia the bronze medal.

HALF AS MUCH FUEL HALF AS MUCH TIME

THE NEW PERFECTION fireless cooking oven does half of its cooking with the burners turned out.

Give the roast 30 minutes of quick heat, then pull the damper that seals the oven and turn out the burners. Dinner cooks itself, without watching. When not in use, either for fireless cooking or for ordinary baking and roasting, the door may be opened and the oven burners used just like the grate burners.

To 2,000,000 housewives, the NEW PERFECTION means "gas stove comfort with kerosene oil." It does away with coal-hods and ash-pans and keeps your kitchen clean and cool during hot summer months. It is easy to operate, easy to clean, and easy to rewick. Sold in 1, 2, 3, and 4 burner sizes by dealers everywhere; also a complete line of accessories—oven, toaster, broiler and griddle.

For best results use SOCONY brands of kerosene oil.

DEBATE WON BY NEGATIVE TEAM

TRAIP ACADEMY STUDENTS DEBATED ON SUBJECT OF GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

"That the railroads in the United States should be owned and operated by the government" was the subject of a debate held last evening at Traip Academy with three student debaters on each team. The debate was won by the negative side. Those on the affirmative team were Wallace J. Patman, Lesley Heenev and Hollis E. Cole. The negative team was made up by Lizzie M. Anderson, Hazel M. Wasgate and J. Lee Hazelwood.

Able arguments for and against government ownership were advanced by the debaters and the case in rebuttal was ably handled by both sides.

The judges were Principal Danfield of the Portsmouth High School, Mr. Stander of the Portsmouth High School staff and the Rev. H. G. McCann of Kittery.

PORTSMOUTH HIGH

The second game in the series will be played Friday afternoon on the South playgrounds. The game will start at 5:15 o'clock to enable the navy yard workmen to attend. Coach Brackett will have Jordan in the box and the chances are that the locals will get a few more breaks in luck than they did yesterday afternoon. In the advent of the local boys winning on Friday the deciding game will be played next week. The contest will be on a neutral field either at Exeter or Durham.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

Council Asks Price of New Water Line—Petition of Gas Co. Granted.

The board of public works met on Wednesday evening, Mayor Yenton presiding. A communication from the city council was received which stated that $1,750 had been appropriated for the repair of South Mill bridge. Another communication requested the cost of extending the water main 2100 feet on Maplewood avenue. The Portsmouth Gas Company was granted permission to open Woodbury avenue, Deer street, Maplewood avenue, Bartlett street and Margon avenue for the installation of gas service.

The annual layout of sidewalk work in the business section of the city was made by the board of public works at the regular meeting on Wednesday evening. The board voted to put in granite work on the north side of Congress street from Vaughan street to bridge street and from the corner of Congress to the New Theatre on Vaughan street. The bids for the work will be called for within a short period.

CITY NEWS

Should Enforce Law

A short time ago the attention of the Board of Health was called to the conditions on Ceres street along the water front and they got busy and also got some one else busy cleaning up in the rear of some of the places of business. However, the cleaning spell was of short duration and it appears that one of the Board, or the health inspector, would be required to be stationed on the street permanently to have the health rules complied with. An order from this board should be made to stand for something.

Somewhat Slow

The Boston and Maine management is said to be in possession of plans for the rebuilding of the shops at the roundhouse destroyed by fire November last, and that the necessary appropriation for the same has been made. The new building may come in 1915 and it may come in 1920. When it does come it will be located on a different site and may be erected as an addition to the roundhouse.

Paying a Little More

The Portsmouth and Kittery Bridge Company or the Boston and Maine railroad a few years ago raised the rates of toll now comes the tax assessors with a raise of taxes on the bridge. The increase is said to be the result of statements made and produced by the railroad, showing that the company is making a good bit of change every year in the collections made on vehicles and foot passengers.

Work Finished

The government boat Zlxanla has finished the work of placing spar buoys in the upper Piscataqua river. Thirteen of them have been anchored and will bring much relief to navigation in the movements of up river craft.

Game in Boston is off

It is reported that the Young Engineers football team have been unable to make the necessary arrangements for a game in Boston with the Framingham team on July 5th and will meet their old rivals the Grattans, on that date at the picnic to be held at Rand's Grove.

What Will He Say?

State Highway Commissioner Everett and his assistants were expected here today to go over the state road along the beaches and between this city and Dover. They certainly cannot be impressed with that part of the highway which takes in Middle street from Richards avenue to Congress street and we would like to hear what the commissioner will say in his report on the condition as he finds it on the section named above.

SUNDAY SAIL.

Yacht Club to Have Run to Shoals.

The Portsmouth Yacht Club will take a run to the Isles of Shoals on Sunday next, leaving the club quarters at 10.30 a. m. A large number of members will participate in the sail. Dinner will be taken at the Islands.
